Subject: Media inquiry about the glyphosate assessment

Dear colleagues,

On Friday evening we received a question from a Dow Jones reporter, Kim Richters, who wrote as follows in an e-mail: "I'm looking to speak to somebody about the EU Assessment Group on Glyphosate that Sweden is part of. I'd like to ask the responsible Swedish department a couple of questions. Do you know who would be the best person to contact and speak to?"

I have asked the reporter to get back to us with the questions she wants to ask, and have provided her with these two links:

- https://ec.europa.eu/food/plant/pesticides/glyphosate_en
- <https://www.kemi.se/en/news-from-the-swedish-chemicals-agency/2019/france-hungary-the-netherlands-and-sweden-will-jointly-carry-out-the-next-assessment-of-glyphosate/>

As soon as we have received questions from the journalist, [redacted] and I will discuss what we think would be the best line of action, and get back to you again.

Please let us know if you also receive questions from the same journalist, and don't hesitate to get back to me if there's any questions or anything you would like to discuss.

Kind regards

Ämne: Media attention about the glyphosate assessment

Dear colleagues,

I would like to inform you that a Dutch radio program will pay attention to the previous assessment of glyphosate, the safety of the products currently on the market and - briefly - to the upcoming assessment. We have agreed to an interview by Ingrid (Becks) who will explain the assessment process and the points of view of, among others, BfR, Efsa and Iarc.

Kind regards,

[redacted],

Ctgb
